Program Descriptions 08-09

Sled Dog Videoconference Series: This is our classic series that explores the lifestyle of running dogs in Alaska- from racing the Iditarod to keeping your family warm and well fed throughout the long northern winter. There are six seperate 1 hour videoconferences programs in this series. All are supported by our online Moodle classroom, a daily Kennel Blog, and resource rich Flash Kennels website. Teachers can choose to participate in this series in any way they like- from registering for a single 1-hour videoconference, in the typical “virtual fieldtrip” fashion, to registering for all six, stretched across a semester or an entire year! It’s a great way to provide an exciting, real-life theme to hook students into higher achievement levels for larger classroom or school-wide goals! The content for all the programs is customizable and tied to national standards in order to focus the learning specifically to individual classroom and school needs.

- ❖ Mushing Alaska: An introduction to the history and cultural importance of mushing in Alaska as correlated with the history and cultural development of the Continental US. Special emphasis is placed on the role of the climate, environment, and technological factors that shape how we live. Grades K-12, Price $100.00, Program on Demand, Register Online at: <http://www.kigluaitadventures.com/programreg>
- ❖ Feed Me Mister Musher! Everyday Sled Dog Nutrition: What does it take to feed a sled dog? How much do they eat? What do they eat? How much does it cost?

All good questions if you want to feed your sled dogs the best you can, but what if you don't have sled dogs? What's it matter to you, anyway? Well, it's all in how you find the answers! Come with us and take a close look at just how we are searching for the answers to how best feed our sled dogs! You'll learn a ton about our dogs, Alaska, and the Mushing lifestyle, but along the way you'll also learn more than you ever wanted to know about the scientific method, the Math that goes with it, and how you could use these skills to answer the everyday questions of your life! Grades K-12, Price $100.00, Program on Demand, Register Online at: <http://www.kigluaitadventures.com/programreg>

- ❖ Sled Dog Genetics: A look into a musher's breeding program and the relationship that forms between musher and dog. The program focuses on what traits mushers hope to breed into their dogs and how a basic understanding on Mendelian Genetics improve a breeding program. We will also take a look at how the future of dog breeding may be affected by current advances in the genetic sciences. Grades K-12, Price $100.00, Program on Demand, Register Online at: <http://www.kigluaitadventures.com/programreg>
- ❖ Equipment: What "stuff" does it take to run with dogs along the cold, frozen rivers of Alaska? Just exactly what does a musher need to bring with them to be safe in such a harsh environment? What do the dogs need? How do we figure it out? These are all crucial question that mushers need to figure out. In this program, we will show you all the main pieces of equipment that we use to run our dogs- but even more importantly, we will share with you the scientific principals we use to determine what equipment will help us get down the trail and what stuff would be better to leave at home! Grades K-12, Price $100.00, Program on Demand, Register Online at: <http://www.kigluaitadventures.com/programreg>
- ❖ Training: Sled dogs are amazing animals, capable of unbelievable feats of endurance and strength! But it doesn't all just happen naturally...it takes training! So how do mushers get their dogs ready to run with such extreme grace? What role does the environment play in training- topography, climate? What principals from human athletics can be applied to training canines? How do we know if our training has been successful? Come explore with us as we try to answer these questions. Take an inside look at our current training plan and how we have adapted it from previous years experiences. Grades K-12, Price $100.00, Program on Demand, Register Online at: <http://www.kigluaitadventures.com/programreg>
- ❖ Race: Have you ever imagined racing your dogs across frozen Alaskan landscapes for hundreds of miles at a time with little or no sleep? Or do you dream of running your dogs out into the forests to gather firewood to warm your cabin on those bitter cold winter nights? Yes! No! Well, whichever way you answer, we are sure you will enjoy chatting with our mushers about their lives in Alaska working and racing with their dogs. Grades K-12, Price $100.00, Program on Demand, Register Online at: <http://www.kigluaitadventures.com/programreg>

Treasures of the North Videoconference Series: This random series of programs investigates the odds and ends of Alaska. They are originally developed to help motivate students to learn through investigative, explorative and interest grabbing topics. These programs are guaranteed to capture your students' attention while helping them to practice reading, writing and math skills. All programs are standards-referenced and adaptable to classroom needs, so meeting AYP becomes an adventure and a load of fun.

- ❖ Books of the North: Join us for a revolving monthly program, which explores a different book each month. Students will be able to interview a character from the book and explore more in depth aspects of the story through investigative questioning processes and examining real aspects of Alaska. (Call of the Wild, Balto, Akiak, etc. or Books on Request) Grades K-12, Price $100.00, Program on Demand, Register Online at: <http://www.kigluaitadventures.com/programreg>
- ❖ Survive: Screech! Smash! There has been a plane crash! You and your classmates are the only ones that can save these stranded survivors. Join our incident command center to help the survivors take care of their basic needs to survive the wilds of Alaska until the rescuers can arrive. Grades K-12, Price $100.00, Program on Demand, Register Online at: <http://www.kigluaitadventures.com/programreg>
- ❖ Lines and Patterns: Students will compare natural and handmade patterns in their environment with similar patterns in Alaska through digital photography and mathematics. Students will also investigate concepts of scientific understanding regarding function and form as well as emotional/ artistic impressions. Grades K-12, Price $100.00, Program on Demand, Register Online at: <http://www.kigluaitadventures.com/programreg>

Virtual Life Online Simulation Games: The Virtual Life Simulations immerse your students in a real life experience for up to 10 days using step-by-step activities (printable and online) leading to a culminating online challenge that will test everything that they have learned!

These simulations include resources and extensions, 2 web-casts, 2 chat sessions and online gaming features allowing your students to virtually live the simulation. Each simulation is designed around an online multiplayer gaming structure that encourages self-motivated learning, student-to-student collaboration, and communication with real-life experts in the field.

Each is designed to allow the teacher room to modify and shape their individual classroom's learning experience to best fit their student's unique needs or time frames, while meeting national, regional or state standards. All online activities are educator monitored with only registered users allowed access to provide for the safest possible online learning experience.

- ❖ Virtual Race: Have you ever imagined racing your own team of sled dog across Alaska? Never had the chance? Or maybe it's just too cold in Alaska? Well, what if you could do it virtually... right from your classroom? Would you be interested? Well here is your chance! Join us for a 5-10 day long virtual sled dog race, where the students are the mushers and they must breed, raise, train, equip and race their own virtual sled dog team. Join us for 2 web-casts and chat sessions with access to online forums, activities, and discussions along with 100's of other students from around the U.S. Grades 1-8, Price $100.00, See calendar below for special scheduled dates.

- ❖ Virtual Gold Rush: The Klondike Gold Rush! The very name brings up romantic images of Jack London and Robert Service... man-against-nature and the haunting beauty of the Yukon... But what drove those tens of thousands of people up and over the hardships of the Chilkoot Pass and down the wild Yukon River? Come with us and explore these questions and more! Join us for a 5-10 day long virtual gold rush, where the students are the gold miners and they must decide, prepare, equip, travel, locate and stake their mine and find the gold in order to return home. Join us for 2 web-casts and chat sessions with access to online forums, activities, and discussions along with 100's of other students from around the U.S. Grades 1-8, Price $100.00, See calendar below for scheduled dates.
